Dear

We ask that all families requesting child-care services through the Career Center abide by a policy of non-discriminatory practice. However, SUNY Stony Brook does not control and is not responsible for agreements or arrangements made between private individuals and students. The University does not become party to private family-child care provider disputes. The University does not pre-screen, approve, or inspect the settings where private child care takes place nor is the University responsible for the training or pre-selection of students who may seek employment through this service.

Thank you,

Karen Clemente
